In the Spotlight

LESTER WEHMHOFF

To Lester Wehmhoff, our Senior Class advisor, who was willing and ready at all times with helpful suggestions, who was always glad to lend a guiding and helping hand to make better, more useful citizens of us, and who made the Class of '50 outstanding in all parts of school life, we, the Peninsula student body, proudly dedicate the 1950 Kwahaes.

"THE PEN HIGH FIGHT SONG"

Our hats are off to you Pen High.
Through all the years for you we'll live and die,
The hope of the Northwest,
You'll always do your best to win the fight
And do what's right. Rah! Rah!

The fairest colors in the land are green and white,
And we will guard them with all our might.
We are proud of you,
And we'll always do our best
For you, Pen High!

PRODUCERS AND DIRECTORS

Directors

They are helpers, giving their aid to the student body. They decide the more important problems. Our school activities have their never-failing support. By taking an active interest in the school and giving freely of their time, energies, and experience to keep things running smoothly, they are outstanding citizens, contributing in their best way to our community. We are justly proud of these fine people who make up our Peninsula school board and faculty.

The Student Council this year has endeavored to fulfill the wishes of the associated students with cooperation as the keynote. The members of this group represent a cross section of the school, and their duties include carrying on student body business, settling disputes and promoting better student-faculty relations. The Council backed the Crowell-Colliers magazine drive and bought a new scoreboard with the profits, purchased the materials for a school flag which was made by the Senior Home Economics class, and Mrs. Bondy, backed many fund raising campaigns for worthy causes, and also purchased a radio for one of the students who was quite ill. All in all this year the Student Council under the capable supervision of Tom Orser, Glen Cheney, Lorraine Natucci, Jim Campbell, the class presidents, and the boys' and girls' club presidents, and Mr. Skurdall had a very profitable year.

Under the sponsorship of the Student Council, the Program Committee is a new school organization. This committee was organized for the purpose of supplying the student body with a monthly program. The members of this group represent the various school clubs. Many interesting and educational programs were planned and produced by this group headed by Lorraine Natucci, president and Joyce Kerr, secretary.

Senior Class History

1946-1947

The history of the Class of '50 began September, 1946, in the halls of Gig Harbor and Vaughn high schools. As first things must always come first, the future seniors started out as freshmen. At Gig Harbor, Jim Miller was elected class president; Nick Babich, vice president, and Rae Nell Strickland, secretary-treasurer. At Vaughn, Gloria Gaetana held the office of president; Odie Kupka, vice president; Betty Peterson, secretary, and Weldene Barret, treasurer. Still alive after initiation, we promptly set out to accomplish many worthwhile things. Outstanding among them was the all-school talent show sponsored by the Vaughn students and the intramural basketball championship won by the freshman team at Gig Harbor. Our success that first year we owed to Mrs. Bondy and Mr. Dawson, our advisors.

1947-1948

The two schools combined at Peninsula High School, making our sophomore class bigger and better. Tony Cloud was elected president; James Campbell, vice president; Joan Haller, secretary; and Kay Andersen, treasurer. This year Mrs. Bondy was again our class advisor.

1948-1949

Juniors and upper classmen! We started the year by electing Glen Cheney class president; Tom Orser, vice president; and Gloria Finney, secretary-treasurer. Chuck Hart and Dick Shively made the All-County Football first team with Jim Campbell placing on the second team. Under the direction of Mrs. Thomas, we presented "Out on a Limb," a three-act play. Then came our Junior Prom, "Spring Carnival," with Eddie Fenton and Evelyn Sigmund, king and queen. As a climax to another year, Eddie Fenton and Jim Campbell were sent as representatives to Boys' State and Joan Haller to Girls' State. That year our thanks went out to Miss Lamison as an able advisor.

1949-1950

Seniors!! With Mr. Wehmhoff as class advisor; Eddie Fenton, class president; Mac Van Gorder, vice president; Gloria Finney, secretary; and Beverly Carlson, treasurer, we began our last year. Tom Orser was elected student body president, and the list of senior class celebrities grew as Kay Andersen was elected as a cheer leader, Loes Satterlee was named as editor of the "Outlook," and Gloria Gaetana was chosen as editor-in-chief of the annual. During the fall we sponsored the Senior Ball, having for its theme "Black Magic," and then turned our time and energy to producing a mystery thriller entitled "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?", directed by Miss Siddle. To show the school that we never began anything we couldn't finish, we again won the intramural basketball championship. And as a grand climax to our school career—graduation!

The Junior Class

Armed with the three V's, vim, vigor and vitality, the Juniors elected Charles Graves, Class President; Dale Van Diest, Vice-President; Nona Tobey, Secretary; and Nadine Lester, Treasurer. With Miss Lamison as their advisor they were determined to increase their knowledge. Some of them reached prominence in sports. The class play, "Footloose," was a great success. The Juniors, among the first to introduce fads and fashions, were active in school affairs. Paul Rierson and James Russell were chosen to attend the Evergreen State Boys' Conference at Pullman this summer. The Prom provided a delightful atmosphere for dancers. The Juniors of '49 and '50 had a happy and successful year and proved themselves capable of leading the student body next year.

The Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class has two years behind it now and two to go. Our election came out as follows: Beverly Campbell, President; Larry Laffaw, Vice-President; Louise Gourlie, Secretary, and Kathy Jerstad, Treasurer. The Freshman Initiation, October 18, was a big success due to a hard working chairman and committee. Our girls proved the athletic type by taking the volleyball and inter-class basketball championships. Our Christmas dance was quite a social event with lovely seasonal decorations and a large crowd. At commencement the decorations which were done by the sophomores were another success for the class of "52". All in all, the sophomore class has proven itself capable of being upperclassmen next year.

The Freshman Class

The first voyage of the good ship "Freshman" began early in September 1949, after a three month's shore leave. The vessel set sail for the unchartered waters of Study, Good Times, and General Behavior.

Soon after weighing anchor, the "Freshman" plowed into the rough waters with capable officers and a hearty crew. Joyce Kerr as skipper; Martha Lester as Log Keeper; and Jackie Wingard as Purser, were chosen to man the craft and direct the other seamen. Mr. Jerstad in the pilot house mapped out each cruise, and the success of the voyage has largely depended on his guidance.

Often the "Freshman" put in anchor long enough to win honors in many of the popular shore activities, sports, music, dramatics, and various other clubs.

"Freshman" is now slipping into port. It will remain in drydock for about three months—and then the anxious crew will again make plans for the next term voyage.

Putting out the annual means work day after day, and its successful completion would not be possible without the cooperation of staff members, students, the art class and business men of the community. In this year's annual we have put more pages of pictures and copy along with colored inserts which give the book a definite theme. We hope this meets with the student body's approval; and if in the years to come you thumb through the pages of the '50 Kwahaes and are reminded of the classes, the plays, sports, dances, work and fun that we have had this year, then we of the Kwahaes staff will consider our job well done.

"Re-write that copy!!" This is just one of the battle cries which can be heard coming from the typing room every day during sixth and seventh periods where the Outlook Staff works to put out the monthly edition of the paper that is an important part of Peninsula's life. This work goes on nine months out of the year; and with a helpful, always on the job advisor, they put out nine issues of an interesting, newsy paper which besides unifying the school also affects the manners, morals and spirit of Peninsula.

STAGE HANDS

Book-worms

The librarians help Mrs. Anderson with the various duties in the library of Peninsula High. Some of the duties are checking books in and out, keeping files, putting books back on the shelves, repairing books, and helping students find reference materials. There is no reward for this work; the students do it for the experience and enjoyment.

There's No Place Like Home

The home economics assistants are a group of girls who help Miss Lamison with the various duties in the home economics rooms. These duties consist of doing the ironing and washing, taking care of the library, doing the faculty's dishes and keeping the rooms in general good condition.

Service with a Smile

The office assistants are students who help with the work in the office. Some of these jobs consist of running errands, giving out information, answering the telephone and writing receipts. This job has many advantages for the boy or girl who plans on a business career.

FOURTH ROW: Michael Conan, Richard Miller, Bill Kimball, Dick Gabrielson, Kenny Esler, Dale Valley, Earl Benson, Alden Cooper.

The movie operators are a group of students chosen by their teachers to operate the movie projector for visual education class periods. They are trained for the job by Mr. Wehmhoff, and for their work deserve a great deal of credit.

Behind the Counter

The Service Club is just what the name implies, a group of students who volunteer to serve the student body by performing such duties as selling tickets to games, selling popcorn and ice cream, and managing the student store. The club is not organized as such yet, but they hope to have a regular membership next year.

Again as in the past years, the Girls' Club has been one of the most active clubs in school. Under the leadership of Mrs. Anderson, their advisor, and the officers, they have had many interesting projects. The main event of the year was the Girls' Club "Tolo Day" program. One of the interesting programs given during the year was a talk on careers for girls in the nursing profession presented by a graduate nurse from Tacoma General Hospital. Those who played a very important part in carrying out the year's activities were the officers: Joyce Elliott, Helen Zinovich, Marjorie Thorson, and Marlene Hemley.

Peninsula High Boys' Club has just completed another successful year under the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Little. Reaching out and including all the boys of Peninsula, the club has provided manpower for many purposes.

This year Jim Miller was elected president, while other officers were: John Simerson, vice-president; Louie Crichfield, secretary; and Charles Graves, treasurer.

The club sponsored a series of talks given by the State Department of Game. Among interesting topics were steelhead fishing, pheasants, and other game birds. The Boys' Club also cooperated with the Girls' Club in making the "Tolo Day" a success.

"Stout-hearted Men"

The Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Stebner has done very well this year in all activities in which they have taken part. They sang for Parent-Teacher Association meetings, in exchange assemblies, and at the County Music Festival. Their favorite songs are, "Down in the Valley," and "Galway Bay."

The Girls' Glee Club, consisting of twenty-seven voices, under the direction of Mr. Stebner, also sang in many of the same programs as the Boys' Glee Club. The girls, too, made a good showing at the County Music Festival. Their favorite songs are, "Younger Than Springtime," and "I'll See You in My Dreams."

"Light-hearted Lassies"

"Say It with Music"

The Orchestra has progressed steadily the past two years into a fine musical organization. Much of the credit for this group must go to their director, Mr. Stebner, who has worked hard to give Peninsula High School one of the few orchestral groups in the county. With the chorus, the orchestra participated in the music festival at Eatonville, played for various assemblies here and in other schools, and for their final performance presented several numbers at the graduation exercises.

"The Best Band in the Land"

This year our band, directed by Mr. Stebner, has taken part in the County Music Festival, exchange programs, and assemblies in addition to playing at football and basketball games. At the Music Festival they received many favorable comments.

"BROADWAY, HERE WE COME"

The Penmasquers

The Penmasquers are a group of beginning dramatists who by their participation in the short skits and the longer plays may qualify for membership in the Thespian Society. Some of the plays produced this year were: The Diabolical Circle, Wildcat Willie, Have You Had Your Operation?, and Dust of the Road. A small group also took part in the State Speech Conference at the College of Puget Sound. This year nine of the Penmasquers were initiated into the National Thespian Society.

SEATED: Beverly Campbell, Richard Hohnbaum, Mrs. Bouvia, Gerry Valley, Martha Insel.
STANDING: McKean Morford, Elizabeth Cone, Joan Coan, Gloria Gaetana.

The National Thespians

Thespian Troup Number 965 of Peninsula High School was chartered by The National Thespian Society on May 18, 1949. This year seven of the original founders returned to school. To maintain their charter a required number of plays must be produced each year. Membership in the Thespian Society is based on acquiring ten points through participation in plays with one point representing ten hours of work. Officers of Troup 965 are: Richard Hohnbaum, Gerry Valley, Martha Insel, and Beverly Campbell.

FUTURE EINSTEINS

FIRST ROW: Fern Dyment, Dale Bowman, Elizabeth Cone, Bruce Bradley. SECOND ROW: Dale Valley, Jim Russell, Mr. Cochran.

The Science Club

The Science Club under the guidance of Mr. Cochran spent most of the year in studying aquatic animals. The club is organized for the purpose of promoting interest in the sciences.

"SHUTTER-BUGS"

FIRST ROW: Earl Benson, Leon McIntyre, Trillum Insel, Joyce Elliott. SECOND ROW: Mr. Wehmhoff, Katha Kraal, Kenny Esler.

The Camera Club

The Camera Club is made up of students who are interested in photography. With Mr. Wehmhoff as supervisor, they learn to develop film, print pictures, and take pictures correctly. Some of their snaps have been a help in completing the annual.

"We've Got the Pep"

The Pep Club is a girls' organization to keep up the school spirit. Along with the cheer leaders, they yell at all the basketball and football games. Events of the year were Pep Club sponsored dances and flashlight drills at many of the home basketball games. Officers for the year were: Betty Grout, Mary Nikolac, Gloria Finney, Kathy Jerstad, and Mrs. DeBolt, advisor.

Charles Atlas Fan Club

The Lettermen's Club elected as officers for the '49-'50 school year: Chuck Hart, president; Glen Cheney, vice-president; Put Little, secretary-treasurer, and Tony Cloud, sergeant-at-arms. The club, under the guidance of Coach Anderson, promotes sportsmanship among the athletes. The social event of the year was a stocking dance which was well attended by the student body.

"Who Killed Aunt Caroline?"

On the night of March 24, the Senior Class presented, "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?", a three-act mystery thriller directed by Miss Siddle.

Caroline Endicott, a mean, domineering, woman, dies from an unknown cause in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Endicott, and Lieutenant Clayton of the homicide squad has difficulty pinning the murder on any one suspect as all of the children, Beyrl, Agnes, Cicely, and Riccy confess to the crime.

A surprise ending is the climax of the play, which was one of the best presented at Peninsula by a senior class.

On November 18, the Juniors presented their class play, "Footloose," a comedy in three acts by Charles Quimby Burdette.

The four Early children had been reared "under their mother's thumb." When they finally persuade Emily and Richard Early to take a vacation, the pressure is removed. Then things really begin to happen. Dick is the first one to kick over the traces by marrying a girl, Jenny Malloy, of whom his mother didn't approve. Bob Early and his friend "Buzz" get into an auto accident and are threatened with charges for driving without a license. Mary drops her boy friend, Randy Cunningham, for a college sophomore, Jack Milford. Then Delphie, the maid, comes down with pneumonia and Hope is left trying to hold up what remains of the household.

Hope gets the boys out of their trouble with the aid of Sanford Welles. Mary discovers Jack's real character and makes up with Randy. Delphie recovers from her illness. Dick and Jenny help the rest of the family through their difficulties and everything is rosy when Emily and Richard return.

The play was directed by Miss Siddle and Mr. Cochran.

Kay Anderson Tom Bettis Sally Parsons

This year's cheer leaders, Kay Anderson, Sally Parsons, and Tom Bettis, along with the Pep Club, have done a fine job of keeping up the old fighting spirit of Peninsula High School. They participated in pep assemblies and games. Their original antics have been a source of fun at most of the games.

Although determined in their will to win, the Seahawks fell short of the mark set by their predecessors. Peninsula's pigskinners started the season with a snap and then came back with some of their old fight and finess to swamp the kingpins, Roy, in the season's last game.

In the opening game the Seahawks lost a hard fought close decision to Fife 12-7, and they proceeded to show their winning form by knocking Orting and Yelm. Slumping, the boys lost to Kapowsin, Federal Way and Eatonville in rapid succession, only to cop their last and decisive game with Roy. This loss for Roy threw the crown to our arch-rivals, Fife, while Peninsula occupied the 6th rung.

Louis Crichfield, senior guard, was voted all-county, while Charles Hart, two-time winner, also placed on the

The Seahawks ended up in third place in the basketball standings for the year, winning nine games while losing five. Peninsula, nevertheless, had a fighting ball club. The record shows that they lost one game by one point and another by the narrow margin of two points. Peninsula lost out on going to the district meet when Foster won by one point in the last three seconds of play.

The Seahawks scored 577 points to their opponets' 539. The top scorers for the year were Nick Babich with 135 points followed by Glen Cheney with 112 points.

Peninsula suffered its first defeat at the hands of Fife, who came back in the first of the ninth, after being in the losing column, to win 7-6.

The Seahawks broke into the win column again in the last home game of the season by defeating Eatonville 10-4. Heroic woodmen of the day were Cheney and Dick Simerson.

For the first time at Peninsula a faculty member was appointed to coach the tennis team. The team, under the supervision of Mrs. DeBolt, used the Horseshoe Lake courts for practice and home matches. As most of the schools in our league had tennis teams, our team had matches with them in conjunction with the baseball games plus additional matches with Shelton and Bainbridge. The racket-busters have had a fine season, winning the majority of sets played. It is hoped that in the coming years there will be tennis courts at the high school so that this invigorating sport can be given even more prominence.

"To give the girls an interest in sports, teach them skill and sportsmanship." That is the aim of the Girls' Athletic Association under the guidance of Mrs. DeBolt. Turn-outs are two days a week, in the gym on rainy days and outside when the weather permits. Intra-mural competitive sports include volleyball, and basketball; in kick ball, baseball, tennis and horseshoes the girls are also given a chance to attain skill. The social event of the year is a picnic in the spring which features hiking, swimming, and lots of good things to eat. Much credit for the efficient management of the group goes to the officers: Evelyn Sigmund, Kathy Jerstad, Laura Knapp and Betty Grout.
